PRIX EUROPA Rising Star - Call for proposals

#stayathome is the theme for this year's PRIX EUROPA Rising Star competition.

We are looking for students' media projects from Europe that were created in or about the time we all staid at home due to the Corona Virus pandemic. Enter your podcast, video, blog, digital audio or online project and tell us how this unusual period has inspired or affected you.

The 2020 Rising Stars competition is open to students from European film and media schools, universities and training institutions. It was created in 2019 in cooperation with the Film University Babelsberg KONRAD WOLF and is looking for projects that show vision, distinct thought and also public responsibility.

If you want to take part, just send an email to office@prixeuropa.eu and let us know. We will provide you with submission details during the next weeks.

Deadline for submissions is 15 August 2020.

Until then – take care of yourself, keep your eyes and ears wide open and let's flatten the curve together.
